TO ADVERTISE MIRROR DISTRICT

On Friday evening, Aug. 7th, the members of the Mirror Board of Trade were addressed by W. A. Milne, general secretary of the Edmonton Industrial Association relative to the establishment and maintenance of a permanent agricultural exhibition in Edmonton.

The scheme in short, is to rent a store, or more if necessary, and each district going in to the proposition will be allotted a certain amount of space for an exhibit of the products and other natural resources from that particular district. Each district would also have the privilege of listing farm property with the price per acre, terms, adaptability, etc., and any other information that will give intending settlers an idea of the country. All this data will be placed on file at the booth and also with the management. Settlers visiting the bureau will thus be in a position to size up each district and in the event of their choosing on Mirror they would be sent direct to the local Board of Trade, whose duty it would then be to show landseekers around the district.

New comers to Edmonton will naturally migrate to this bureau of information, and it is certain that an exhibition of products that have been and will be raised in the Mirror district will give a most favorable impression on prospective settlers.

Each district will have to pay its share of the cost of upkeep, which will not be known until the several Boards of Trade have signified their willingness to support the undertaking.

W. C. McCormack, president of the Mirror Board of Trade attended a luncheon and meeting in Edmonton on Thursday when the question was more fully dealt with.

THE WAR SUMMARY

That no important engagement has occurred between the French and Germans is indicated by an official announcement issued by the French department of war that up to Wednesday afternoon there had been no encounters between the respective forces except those of outposts.

The German army is advancing into the heart of Belgium. The forces which have been investing Liege have moved to the north, and a new army corps has taken their place. Brussels report that the French and British allied forces are concentrated at various important points in Belgium, and are prepared to check the German advance.

The British war office information bureau says the majority of 30 German army corps have been located, and that the cause of the German troops are concentrated between Liege and Luxembourg.

Prince George of Serbia is reported to have been wounded while watching the bombardment of Belgrade.

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—The arrival of the powerful fighting ship Drake has brought considerable comfort to the Canadian authorities who have been anxious about shipping on the Atlantic coast.

With six efficient cruisers, including the Niobe, scouting the waters of the North Atlantic, it is hoped that the German cruisers in these waters may soon be picked up and the anxiety which has bothered them since the beginning of the war.

London, Aug. 13.—The hour of the great battle which will have much to do with settling the fate of Europe is appreciably nearer. All day long reports of engagements which, although disastrous in themselves, will be considered insignificant when the main armies meet, have been coming in—a thousand killed here, several hundred taken prisoners there, and the boom of guns and the clack of arms everywhere—showing that the cavalry screens, sometimes accompanied by infantry whose duty is to find out what is going on behind, have come in contact along nearly the whole front of two hundred miles, the principal encounters being in northern Belgium, near Haelen and on the French frontier Othain. Military experts do not expect one side to be routed or annihilated in a few hours. Before a decisive success is obtained, one way or the other, there will likely be several days' battle—probably the bloodiest of all time.

R. R. FIRE GUARDING

According to the regulations recently issued by the Fire Inspection Department of the Railway Commission, railway companies in the three prairie provinces must, except where impracticable or unnecessary, construct fire guards along their rights-of-way.

The railway companies will be made directly responsible for the fireguarding of open prairie and fenced grazing lands, while the situation as to grain-stubble land will be in the hands of the land-owners or occupants, who are to construct fireguards if they consider such action necessary, and to whom payment will be made by the companies upon a basis of $1.75 per lineal mile of 4-foot ploughed fireguard.

In the case of open prairie or fenced grazing land, the fireguards must consist of a ploughed strip, not less than 16 feet in width, and approximately 200 feet from the track. Where fireguards already exist at a greater distance, however, they will be left where they are to minimize the weed nuisance.

In all cases, dry grass, straw or other combustible matter must be removed between the fireguard or the edge of cultivation and the track. On grain-stubble lands, this requirement applies for 10 feet outside the right-of-way on private land. In the case of fenced grazing lands, burning of grass is not required outside the right-of-way, owing to the hardship that would be thereby imposed upon stockholders.

FOUND.—On Lake Street, a white woollen shawl. Owner may have same by paying for this notice, at THE JOURNAL office.

The Pym Bros. of Mirror, have had 12 head of Pure Bred Hereford cattle at the Edmonton Fair and have taken several prizes. The pure bred bull took first prize in its class at Calgary fair this year.

EXHIBIT FOR INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS

For the first time since the organization of the International Irrigation Congress in Salt Lake City, Utah, in 1891, Canada will this year entertain one of the largest and most influential agricultural bodies on the North American continent. In Salt Lake City at the last convention in 1912, the name of National was changed to International, and then it was decided to hold the 1914 session in Calgary, which is the western gateway to the largest irrigation project on the continent.

The organization is a sister organization to the Dry Farming Congress, held last year in Salt Lake City, and the two are being held identically the same—to further the interests of the man who is actually engaged in agricultural pursuits. Practical agriculturists will be assembled at this gathering from all over Canada, the United States and foreign countries where modern methods of agriculture are in vogue.

In this way the congress will be of great benefit to Western Canada. The resources of the various provinces will be exhibited at the agricultural and horticultural exhibition held in connection with the congress, and visitors and delegates will get an insight into the productivity of the soil of this country that could never be had otherwise.

Frank Peterson, of Carstairs, who has been connected with exhibition work for the past twenty years was in Mirror last Tuesday and succeeded in interesting a number of citizens in the work and it has been decided to make a district exhibit at the Congress in Calgary. The exhibit will occupy a space 15 feet frontage and 10 feet deep, and will contain products of the soil, irrigated and non-irrigated. Exhibit may also include articles produced or manufactured in the district represented. The prizes are: 1st, $500; 2nd, $300; 3rd, $250; 4th, $200; 5th, $100; 6th, $50. Diploma to be given with each prize.

The grain in sheaf or in bulk, grass, roots or vegetables, if grown in Canada, in the first three prize winning exhibits will become the property of the Exhibition Committee to be used for exhibition purposes, and will occupy a place in the Alberta exhibit at the Pan-American Exposition in 1915.

A meeting of the citizens will probably be called in the course of a week or so to go more fully in the matter. The Mirror district is capable of producing an exhibit that should carry off first honors, but every one, farmer and citizen alike will have to unite and give their assistance in the undertaking. We want the best that the land can produce.

The first number of the Peace River Record is to hand. It is published at Peace River Crossing by Chas. W. Frederick, at one time a member of the Bulletin staff. The first issue is dated July 23rd. It is a neatly printed four page six column publication and declares itself independent in politics. It deserves and will no doubt achieve success. Edmonton Bulletin. C. W. Frederick is well known to many in this locality having been interested in the Allis Free Press at one time.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS ITEMS

The Misses Upex, who have been visiting their sister, Mrs. Geo. Robinson, for some time past, returned this week to their home in Broadview, Sask.

P. M. Carmichael was an Edmonton visitor last Sunday.

J. F. Flewelling has been very busy for the past week setting up new binders. The farmers of this district are preparing to garner their crops and Mr. Flewelling has disposed of five McCormack and Deering binders to assist in the work.

J. H. Duitman has purchased the house on Albert avenue recently erected by W. C. Gardner.

The Misses Brown, former residents of Mirror, were visitors in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Suggett left on Thursday afternoon for Vermilion, Alberta, where Mr. Suggett will open up a jewelry store, having removed his stock from Mirror. Mr. Suggett has been a resident of Mirror since the town started and his support in the sports line will be missed by the different clubs. We trust that their hopes in Vermilion will be more than realized.

R. E. Coleman was in Calgary this week.

All the indications point to a dearth of hay in the southern parts of this Province and in Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The farmers of this district who have been favored with good crops and with an abundance of fodder should start right away and store grain and hay. The latter can be sold in large quantities right in our own province and the wheat will command a high price in the world's markets on account of the war. The farmers of the district will thus consult their own best interests by putting up all the hay they can get hold of, as the market will never be over stocked, in fact there will be record prices obtained. When the wheat is harvested in a few days, the price per bushel for wheat should create a record for this district.

Mr. and Mrs. Holden are expected to take up their new work about September 1st. Rev. Holden's head quarters will be at Mirror, Alta. The meeting closed with prayer at 10:30 p. m.

APPOINTED NEW INCUMBENT

The congregation of St. Monica's Church met in the vestry on Monday evening, August 10th, with a large attendance of members. Rev. Archdeacon Dewdney, of Red Deer, was appointed chairman; minutes of last meeting were read and passed. The meeting was called for the purpose of electing a new Incumbent, to take Rev. O. Orelighon's place, who is to return to England in about a month's time. Rev. Archdeacon Dewdney brought forth the name of Rev. Holden, of Castor, and explained to the members the good work Rev. Holden had done. It was agreed that Rev. Holden be appointed if the other two parishes, viz. Alis and Bashaw agree on same, and the Rev. Gentleman to receive $1000 annually from the three parishes.

The St. Monica's church decided on voting $200 to Bashaw and $150 to Alis for a term of five years, the latter amount to be reduced to $125 after the first year, commencing Jan. 1st, 1915, if St. Monica's Church find that the amount is too heavy on their finances. It was also decided to build a rectory at Mirror, and same to be built as soon as financial arrangements are completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Holden are expected to take up their new work about September 1st. Rev. Holden's head quarters will be at Mirror, Alta. The meeting closed with prayer at 10:30 p. m.

The Army-Worm

On account of the crops in some districts being badly attacked by the army-worm, it is advisable for every farmer to be on the lookout and ready to combat it if it comes his way.
It is stated in a bulletin issued by the commission of conservation.

The army worm is about one and one-half inches long when full grown, and is striped with black, yellow and green, of a dingy appearance and much resembling the cut-worm. When detected, all efforts should be centered on keeping the worm out of crops not yet attacked.
A deep furrow (several furrows are better) ploughed around the fields with the vertical or steep side of the furrow next to the crop to be protected, serves as a barrier to prevent the march of the worms, as they will not be able to crawl up the straight side of the furrow. Holes or pits should be dug in the bottom of the furrow every ten or twelve feet to catch the worms as they crawl along looking for a place to get out. They can then be destroyed with a blunt stick or by burning straw over them.

By thoroughly spraying or dusting a small strip of the crop in advance of the worms with Paris green, and liberally distributing poisoned bran mixed at the rate of 30 pounds bran and one pound Paris green with enough molasses and water to sweeten it) large numbers may be destroyed. A field so poisoned must not be pastured until rain has thoroughly washed it. Whatever is done must be done quickly and at once, for a single days delay may often mean the ruin of a valuable crop.—Ex.

Canadian Heather

An unusual Government publication has recently been issued by the Dominion Parks Branch of the Department of the Interior. It consists of a small souvenir booklet artistically bound in duplex leather with green paper and tied with an olive green silk cord. The lettering is embossed in gold and a very unique design has been chosen for the cover. The latter is cut out so as to form a sort of frame and in this is inserted a spray of Canadian Heather from the Rocky Mountains park, the purplish flowers of the heather against the wood-brown background making a very attractive colour combination. The matter is set up in 10 point Caslon Old Style type and the booklet is illustrated throughout with vignettes of scenes in the Banff and Yoho Parks printed in golden olive by the offset method. By this method, which has so far been but little use in Canada, the difficulty which formerly existed in printing half-tones on anything but smooth-faced paper has been overcome. The process involves taking an impression from the plates on a cylinder covered with a rubber blanket and then transferring or offsetting it to the paper which is carried round a third cylinder.

It will no doubt be a matter of surprise to many to learn that Canada possesses a heather of her own. This plant is not, as it has sometimes been called, a "close relation" of the Scotch heather, but has a family connection and standing of its own well recognized by botanists, and is nearly allied to the Heath of the British Isles. The booklet gives an interesting account of the locality from which the souvenir was gathered, Simpson pass, about thirty miles south of Banff, and of some of the legends and stories connected with the heather in other lands. Its main purpose, however, is to call the attention of Canadians to the National Parks of the Dominion, not only to the attractions they offer to those who are able to visit them, but also to their value in the national life.

Their commercial potentialities are somewhat startling. It is pointed out that owing to the increasing modern taste for travel, striking scenery has become one of the most valuable sources of revenue a nation can possess. The tourist revenue of Switzerland per year is placed at 150 million dollars, that of France at 600 millions, that of Italy at over 100 millions.
The sum which Americans annually spend abroad is estimated at the enormous total of five hundred million dollars.
It would appear therefore, that the creation of national parks, which are one of the best means of attracting and providing for tourist travel, may well be considered as it is now being considered in the United States, as a "solid business proposition."

It is on other grounds than the commercial, however, that the parks lay claim to recognition. Chief of these is their aid to producing efficient citizens.
These great natural reserves are reservoirs of vitality for the race. As an antidote to the ills of over-civilization and the complex life of modern cities, they offer the opportunity for life in the wilderness and the best sort of recreation where fresh air, sunshine and beautiful natural scenery are combined. The problem of the preservation of the vitality of the race is admitted by all con-servatismists today, to be the first of all conservation problems, and this value of parks, playgrounds and recreation in this respect is each year being given a larger place.

The educational and patriotic influence of the parks is also touched upon as well as the work which the Dominion Parks Branch is doing in the preservation of native wild life in connection with the battles, elk, antelope, etc., as well as bird life. There is also pointed out the need of the creation of Historic Parks as a means of preservation for our historic sites, many of which we are allowing to disappear.

A new line of development which is worthy of consideration, is suggested, viz: the provision of national parks near our congested centres of population. All modern town planning makes provision for parks and playgrounds within the city itself, but while these are useful and necessary they pro-

Ways of Great Kings.

The celebrated Impresario Schumann more than once said it was a precautionary matter to draw up to agreement with a star, for each one had some strange little peculiar which he insisted on in-serting.

In one contract Schumann exacted that his about to allow thirty-seven candle each night in his dressing room. Schumann was amazed that even a great actor should require so much illumination, but he consented.
When Schumann visited Schumann's dressing room he found only two candles dial alight. On another occasion he discovered only one. Inquiries led to the discovery that the different tapers saved on the other candles and sold them at a profit.

Schumann said that a small boy whose father was a great friend of Cecilia's, having asked the tenor for a signed photograph, received as a reply, "Certainly; go to my photographer; he will sell you a photograph, and if you bring that to me I will write on it whatever you like."

Rising at Dawn.

Men nowadays seem to assume it is a great virtue to be abed late in the morning. In the wise old days of Greece it wasn't so. There is a quote from the dialogue of Charmides.
Lysimachus—Let me beg a favor of you. Come to my house tomorrow at dawn, and we will advise about those matters. For the present let us make an end of the conversation.
Socrates—I will come tomorrow. Lysimachus, as you propose, I do nothing.
Think of rising at dawn these days just to have a talk. Yet that is just what Socrates' wisest soul agreed to do and did. What a contrast to our modern morning laziness! that think what a due time it was to meet and talk; when the air was cool and full of fragrance and the songs of the birds.
The world was just freshening up and putting on its beautiful smile. Socrates knew all this, and so promised to be there at dawn.

Common Form of Insanity.

A party of Clevelanders entertained some visitors recently, says the Plain Dealer, and having showed them everything interesting in Cleveland proper they had to take them out to Newburg for a view of the asylum. The ampeintendent was in a special form of mind, and he conducted the bus personally.

"Here is a queer case, ladies," he said, pausing at a particular cell. "This man has the delusion that he possesses the motive power that turns the engine. He is perfectly harmless, but he actually believes that without him the world would not move. Strange delusion, isn't it?"

"Why, not at all!" exclaimed one of the women. "My husband has had it he is crazy too!"

The Vayder.

The vorder was a large fish in which were collected the broken table which were returned from the table with a large knife with a broad, flat blade, called the vorder knife, from vider to enjoy, clear or make void.

"The Role of Nurture" by Hugh Rhodes, the date of which is 1877, one of the curious set of handbooks of manners and etiquette recognized by the Early English Text society, speaks of these vessels as follows: "Soe we have vorder ready for to hold the greatest that they doe leave on their treasures. Thus with your troubesome take off more fragments and put them in your corder and then set them downe cleane asprink."

Poison Hemlock.

Water hemlock is a deadly plant common in most country vegetable hills. Its roots are eaten often in spring by mistake for some edible root, and death frequently results. Cattle are often poisoned by drinking water in marshes where it grows. The poison hemlock from which the Greek made poison is a near relative to the water hemlock. It stands from two to seven feet high and has clusters of small white flowers and large, parallel leaves. The stalk, being hollow, is of en made into whistles by country boys, and many children are poisoned in this fashion.

The Inspired Office Boy.

"Ma, I ain't gona to work that man any more," said Johnny after his second day as office boy for Horatio Smithers.

"What's the matter?" his mother asked.

"I'm afraid I won't get my money.
He always makes me find out what a man's business is before I let him into the office. I guess he must be afraid of collectors."

One Way.

Child Bumpus I called from a mess vide a means of recreation for a few hours at most. The outlook parks would reserve large areas where people would be free to go for as long as the desired. Such parks would be in reality, people's estates; and could afford to the ordinary citizen many of the advantages which the men of wealth possess in his country estate. In the words of the booklet they would be "places where they people could get a summer outing or camp site for the nomad tent, and where boys and men could camp, and fish and study nature, where the sick and delicate could find new stores of health in the great out-of-doors, by right of citizenship, without leave or hindrance of any sort."

There is still within easy reach of many of our large cities, land available for such a purpose which is either public domain or procurable at low cost. It would seem worth while considering the advice given by Antimachus Bryce in Ottawa, before his return to England, namely, that the time to set aside public domain for the future needs of the people is now, not when the encroachments of civilization had rendered this almost impossible.

Mailing Cartridges Not Allowed

Ottawa, July 29.—Notwithstanding urgent and repeated warnings of the postal department against the mailing of inflammable and explosive articles in the mails, this is still found to occur and only the other day a man a Regina was brought before a police magistrate and fined $50 and costs for enclosing cartridges in a post packet.

The department is determined to prosecute every such case that comes to notice because of the danger caused by inflammable and explosive articles. Dreadful possibilities of fire on board ship do not require to be stated, and there is almost equal danger from fire occurring in the mails when on the postal cars.

MIRROR WINS "BREWERY CUP"

Trochu's Second Attempt To Lift The Silver Keg In Two Years Fails.
First Game Was Puck, Second And Third Were Fine Exhibitions

After much deliberation, telephone conversations and interviews via His Majesty's mail service with the trustees at Calgary the postponed "Brewery Trophy" series were staged in Alix on Thursday afternoon last, when the Trochu and Mirror teams looked home for the possession of the silver keg, Mirror being the defending team.

The first game was a walk away for Mirror, as after the second and third innings it was only a question of how many

Trochu had fish glue in his mitt and how many was 18 to 0, Tyson who was doing the twirling for Trochu was touched up for seventeen hits, while the support behind him was of a mediocre variety. The game developed into a lull, the Trochu team trying to tire out Mirror, while the latter endeavored to get out by the strike-out method. At the end of the sixth, it was decided to end the agency and start the second game at 6:30. Thielan pitched superb ball for Mirror and was given gilt edged support.

The second game was in striking contrast to the opening game, Trochu showing a marked reversal of form. They got away to a good start in the first innings by a series of errors and a two base hit which netted them three runs. Mirror couldn't come through with the necessary bingle when the said bingle would have meant a couple of runs. Livingstone twice ran on a 1 article of ball, although a little wild at times. Morris pitched himself out of several tight corners and kept Mirror from reaching the home slug.

Murray slid into second safely

Mirror won the third and last game of the series this (Friday) morning July 5 runs to 3. The play was about on a par with the previous game, although Tyson for Trochu was given the poorest kind of support. He pitched a fine article of ball and on several occasions outwitted the side with a Mirror man on third and second. Thielan kept the hits well scattered and fielded his position perfectly, getting nine assists, while Iverson on first accepted sixteen chances out of eighteen, his two errors not figuring in the scoring line. The entire infield were on their toes for the nine innings. In the ninth with the score 5 to 1, and one at Thielan hit two batsmen in succession and walked a third, slitting the bases. The next faned and Peerson hit a high fly to Eastman who gathered the sphere in for a third out. Thus ended Trochu's well-planned campaign to secure possession of the much coveted prize, which now occupies a niche in Mirror's gallery of art treasures.
